1 Samuel (Continued)

Although God had called Israel to be holy and distinct from the nations, the people demanded a king to be like the other nations. It was at this pivotal time in Israel's history, that the prophet Samuel was chosen by God to lead His people out of the period of the Judges and into that of the kings. The book of 1 Samuel covers a time of great highs and lows, but through it all, God is faithful and sovereign.

"Parenting" by Paul Tripp

What is your calling as a parent? In the ongoing demands of everyday life, it is easy for parents to lose sight of the goal God has given us. Rather than the latest strategy or list of techniques, this study will focus on gospel-centered principles that remind us of our need for God's grace -- grace that has the power to shape how we view everything we do as parents.

College & Career Class — 1 John

John, the disciple "whom Jesus loved", was now greatly advanced in years and the only apostle still living. However weak his aging body may have been, John showed great strength of faith and vitality for ministry in his epistles. He calls us to return to the basics of the Christian faith in order to identify and steer clear of erroneous teaching and experience sweet fellowship with the body of Christ for whom Jesus has given Himself. Our study of 1 John will seek to remind us of these precious truths and apply them to our living.

Wednesday Night Class for Adults
May 24th through July 26th – 6:45PM

Battling Unbelief

No one sins out of duty. We sin because it offers some promise of happiness. That promise enslaves us – until we believe that God is more desirable than life itself. Only the power of God's superior promises in the gospel can emancipate our hearts from servitude to the shallow promises and fleeting pleasures of sin. Pastor John Piper shows how to sever the clinging roots of sin that ensnare us, including anxiety, pride, shame, impatience, covetousness, bitterness, despondency, and lust.
